What Aloette Consultants have to Say

When I joined Aloette and became an Aloette Beauty Consultant, it was only to earn some extra money in my spare time. But it has been more than that. I love the fact that I can get 35% discount for life... and get paid for what I love doing... I am a single mother of two kids with a full-time fixed salary income job.. I thought I couldn't do this type of work, because I'm almost always busy and I thought I couldn't sell like a salesperson. What I do love is the products and applying makeup. After talking with Sheri, and doing my homework, my mind became clear. I thought to myself, WHY NOT! There's nothing to lose and it doesn't hurt to try a totally different career that doesn't require you to pay for training or education. Free training, coaching and all the help you need is just a phone call or email away. Aloette also offers the highest commissionable payout to their consultants that I know of, and the products can really sell themselves... But this career path for me was more than a job. I've gained freedom, confidence, friendship, professionalism, a positive attitude and the chance to help people to feel good about themselves. I love to hear what they like about Aloette's skincare & cosmetics and how it has changed their lives, as well as mine... You made my life more fulfilled and enjoyable, thank you so much!

"Working with Sheri Andrunyk... and her wonderful family team is such a pleasure. They are all committed to providing genuine and positive service to every client. With Sheri at the helm we all work in harmony with our main focus being to give to other women the very best in skin care consulting and customer service. Customers are pampered and serviced to their satisfaction, leaving them with a wonderfully pleasant experience, whether it s a special intimate one-to-one facial or a fun ladies spa night - and the satisfaction continues when customers who have been using one of our skin care collections, customized to their needs - find that they love what happens to their skin! As they say, the proof is in the pudding! ...and it is obvious when we get together with other women, who are using Aloette..."

"Three cheers for the wonders of Aloette Cosmetics. One just cannot stay at home or leave home without it. I have been an avid Aloette user for over twenty years and started working as an Aloette beauty consultant in the Fall of 2001. I would not sell or promote a product that I honestly didn't believe in and have always been complimented on how great my skin looks.... The product is truly the best... As an Aloette beauty consultant there is no one to whom I have sold the product that does not rave about it.... I have experienced joy and pleasure as my clients see how their faces glow using the products; they look much younger and develop more confidence in themselves, because of their outward appearance.

...The financial rewards are unequalled in the cosmetic industry...

You choose whether you want to be in the business full or part-time and attain whatever level you want. It's all up to you. So... take some time to pamper yourself and become an Aloette user or beauty consultant. You will not regret it."

"I became an Aloette beauty consultant because of Sheri. She stands out in a crowd because of her positive outlook on life and the warmth and compassion she shows to her fellow men/women. She has been and continues to be a great source of inspiration to all her beauty consultants. Her relentless efforts and passion for what she believes in show in the way she is able to transfer these qualities to her beauty consultants. I want to salute Sheri and wish her all the best as she embarks on new chapters in her life. Time changes, nothing remains constant and one has to move with the changing times so as not to be caught up in the quicksand. Success will follow her because of her integrity and commitment. She always has been a pillar of strength to us all and is never too busy to listen and show interest in others. Sheri, it is said that a person grows by the people they know and I must say that I have grown a great deal by knowing you. All the best..."

More from another Aloette President, Christine Kraft

Aloette's, Christine Kraft - Success at Your Fingertips

Excerpt from Article Published in the Sturgeon Falls Advantage, by Suzanne

"Christine Kraft has achieved a level of success she is quite proud of, but her message is simple. Anyone can achieve it. It's all a matter of choice. It's available for the taking. Success is attainable.

...Christine Kraft... began... by selling the cosmetic line of products, and soon realized the potential this job had for her. Living in the Oakville area at the time, she worked under the positive influences of Susan Lamont, her manager. Debra Goodwin Geller, president of Aloette of Oakville, along with her manager helped guide Christine with positive reinforcement, support, and help.

As the years went by Christine developed quite the clientele. Along with her at-home-shows, she lets women know that she can help provide them with jobs. "These days," she says, "we must create our own jobs because there are so few out there." And beyond the money, there is the satisfaction and the positive lifestyle that goes hand in hand with Aloette...

Christine and her family relocated to Sturgeon Falls... After concentrating her time and efforts on the family and building a home she rededicated herself to the job she so loved... "I want to make Aloette a household name," she adds. "I also want to help women experience the success I have," she continues...

How you present yourself to the world, says a lot about you. It reflects how you feel about yourself.

The purpose of Aloette is to help bring out the very best you can be. As an Aloette representative, you give women this gift.

The greatest advantage of working for Aloette is that you work for yourself, but never by yourself. You work your own hours. You choose for yourself how quickly you move on. You are in control...

Aloette is a business built on camaraderie. Women working together to achieve a level of success often thought of as inaccessible. Aloette gives women the opportunity to experience a career they can be proud of... Imagine starting a business without spending a fortune... and earn an income right away!

Christine gets excited just talking about the possibilities, and she wants women to know anyone can do it, it's easy..."
